

Girlguiding makes an important decision about our activity centres

At Girlguiding, we help all girls know they can do anything. Girlguiding is a charity and we sometimes need to make big decisions. To help us do this, Girlguiding has a group of adults called the trustees. Their job is to think about the future of Girlguiding.

At Rainbows, Brownies, Guides and Rangers, you get to enjoy adventures big and small and some of these might have been at our activity centres owned by Girlguiding.

We've made a new decision

The trustees, who are responsible for everything Girlguiding does, have made a new decision. They have asked Girlguiding to think about selling the 5 activity centres that Girlguiding owns at the end of 2023. This is because of the cost of running them, and because the number of people visiting them has been low. The names of the centres are Blackland Farm, Foxlease, Glenbrook, Waddow Hall and Ynysgain.

Why are we doing this?

Girlguiding's activity centres are great fun for the girls that have been able to use them. We know many girls like you have adventures with your unit nearer to your home, instead of the activity centres. The activity centres also need a lot of money to make them safe and modern.

What will happen now?

All events up to the end of 2023 are happening including Magic and Mayhem, Wellies and Wristbands, Fearless Fun and Sparkle and Ice. If you are going, we can't wait to see you there. Up until then, Girlguiding will be talking to your leaders and people who work at the activity centres to make sure they know what is going to happen.

Talk to your leaders or your parent/carer if you have any questions about this news.
